PROLOGUE

*Even light itself, which every thing displays,
Shone undiscovered, till their brighter minds
Untwisted all the shining robe of day;
And from the whitening undistinguished blaze,
Collecting every ray into their kind,
To the charmed eye educed the gorgeous train
Of parent colors. First the flaming red
Sprung vivid forth; the tawny orange next;
And next delicious yellow; by whose side
Fell the kind beams of all-refreshing green;
Then the pure blue, that swells autumnal skies,
Ethereal played; and then, of sadder hue,
Emerged the deepend indigo, as when
The heavy-skirted evening droops with frost
While the last gleamings of refracted light
Died in the fainting violet away.*

JAMES THOMSON

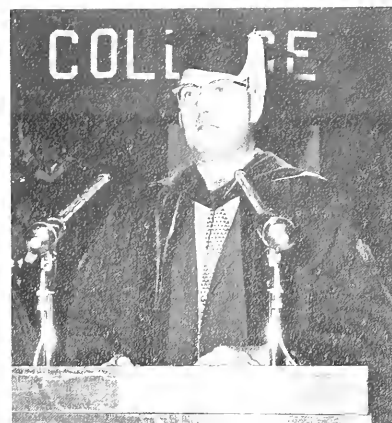

E. DE ALTON PARTRIDGE

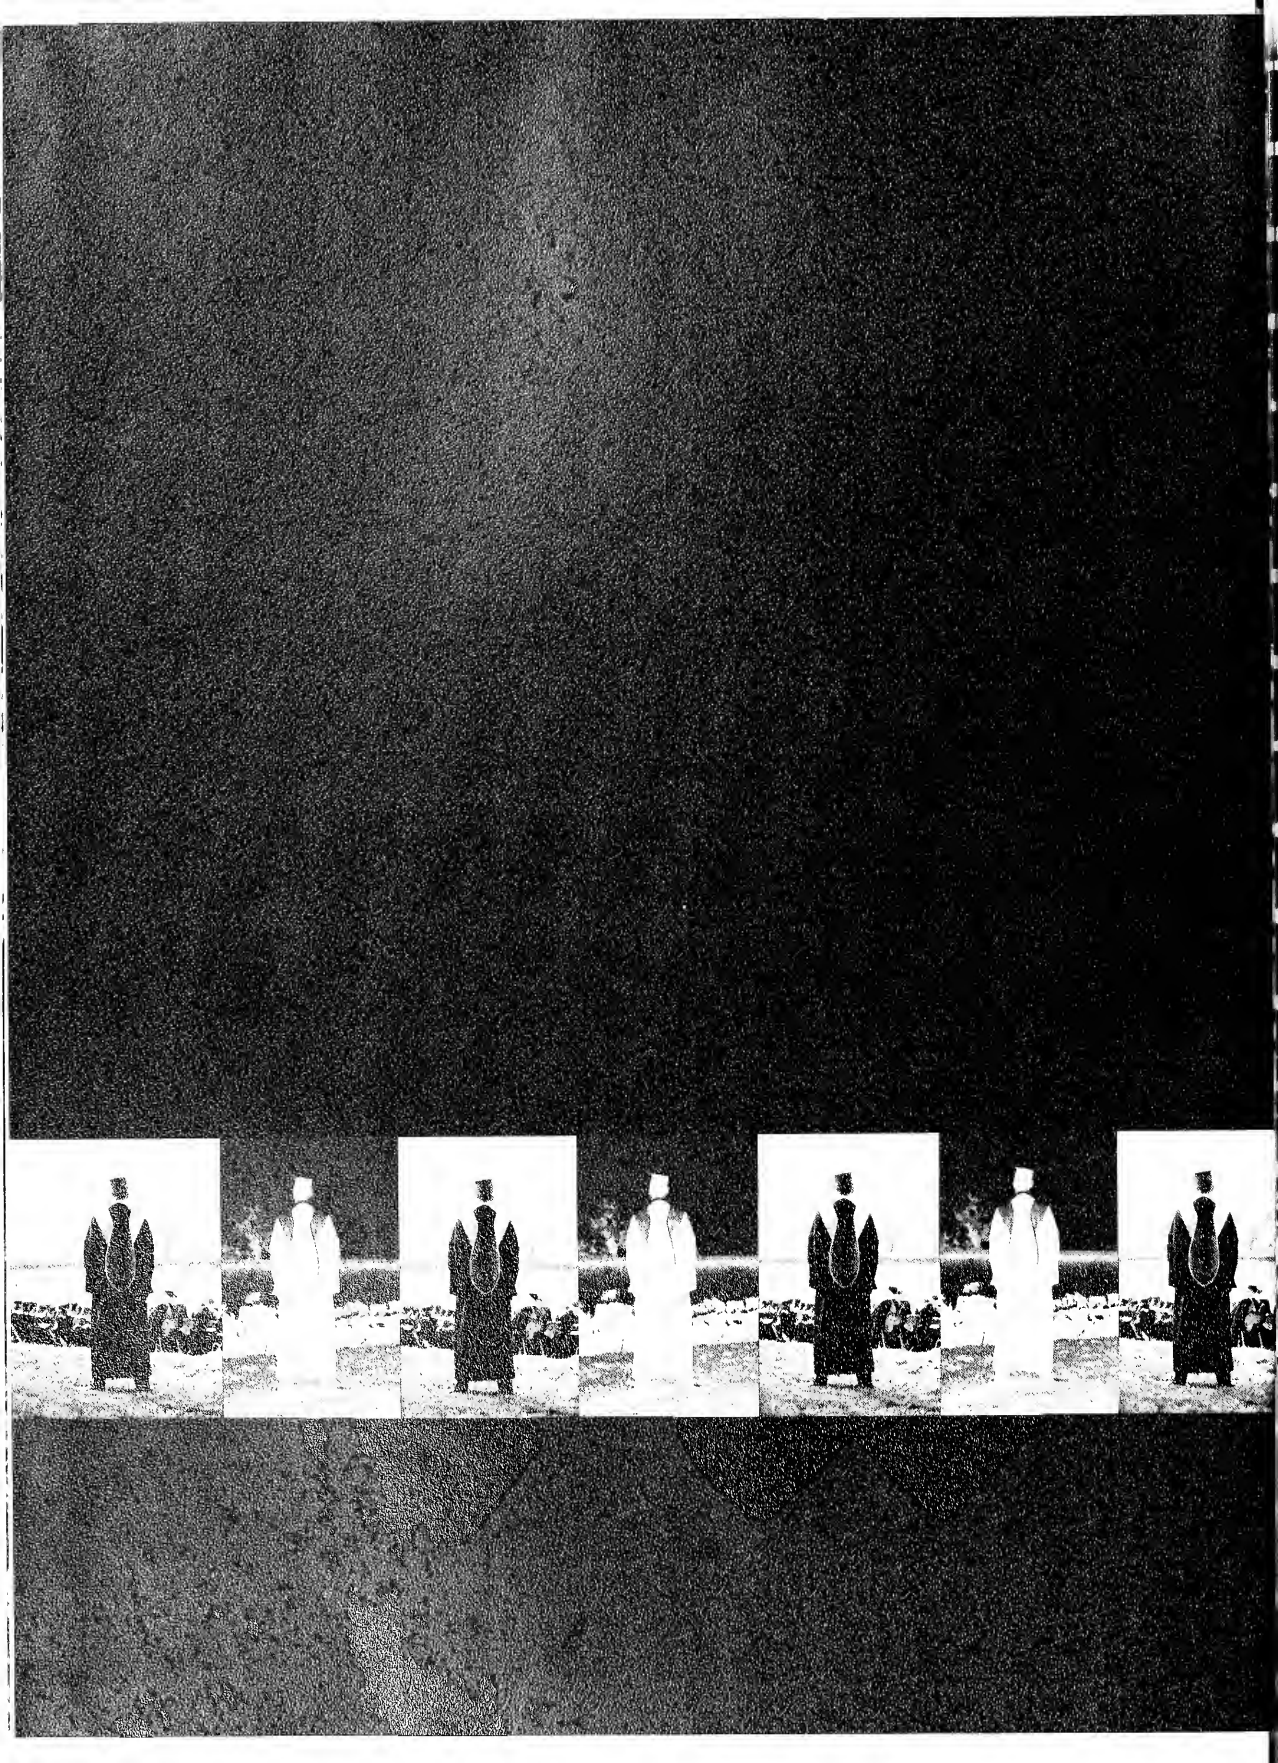

DEDICATION

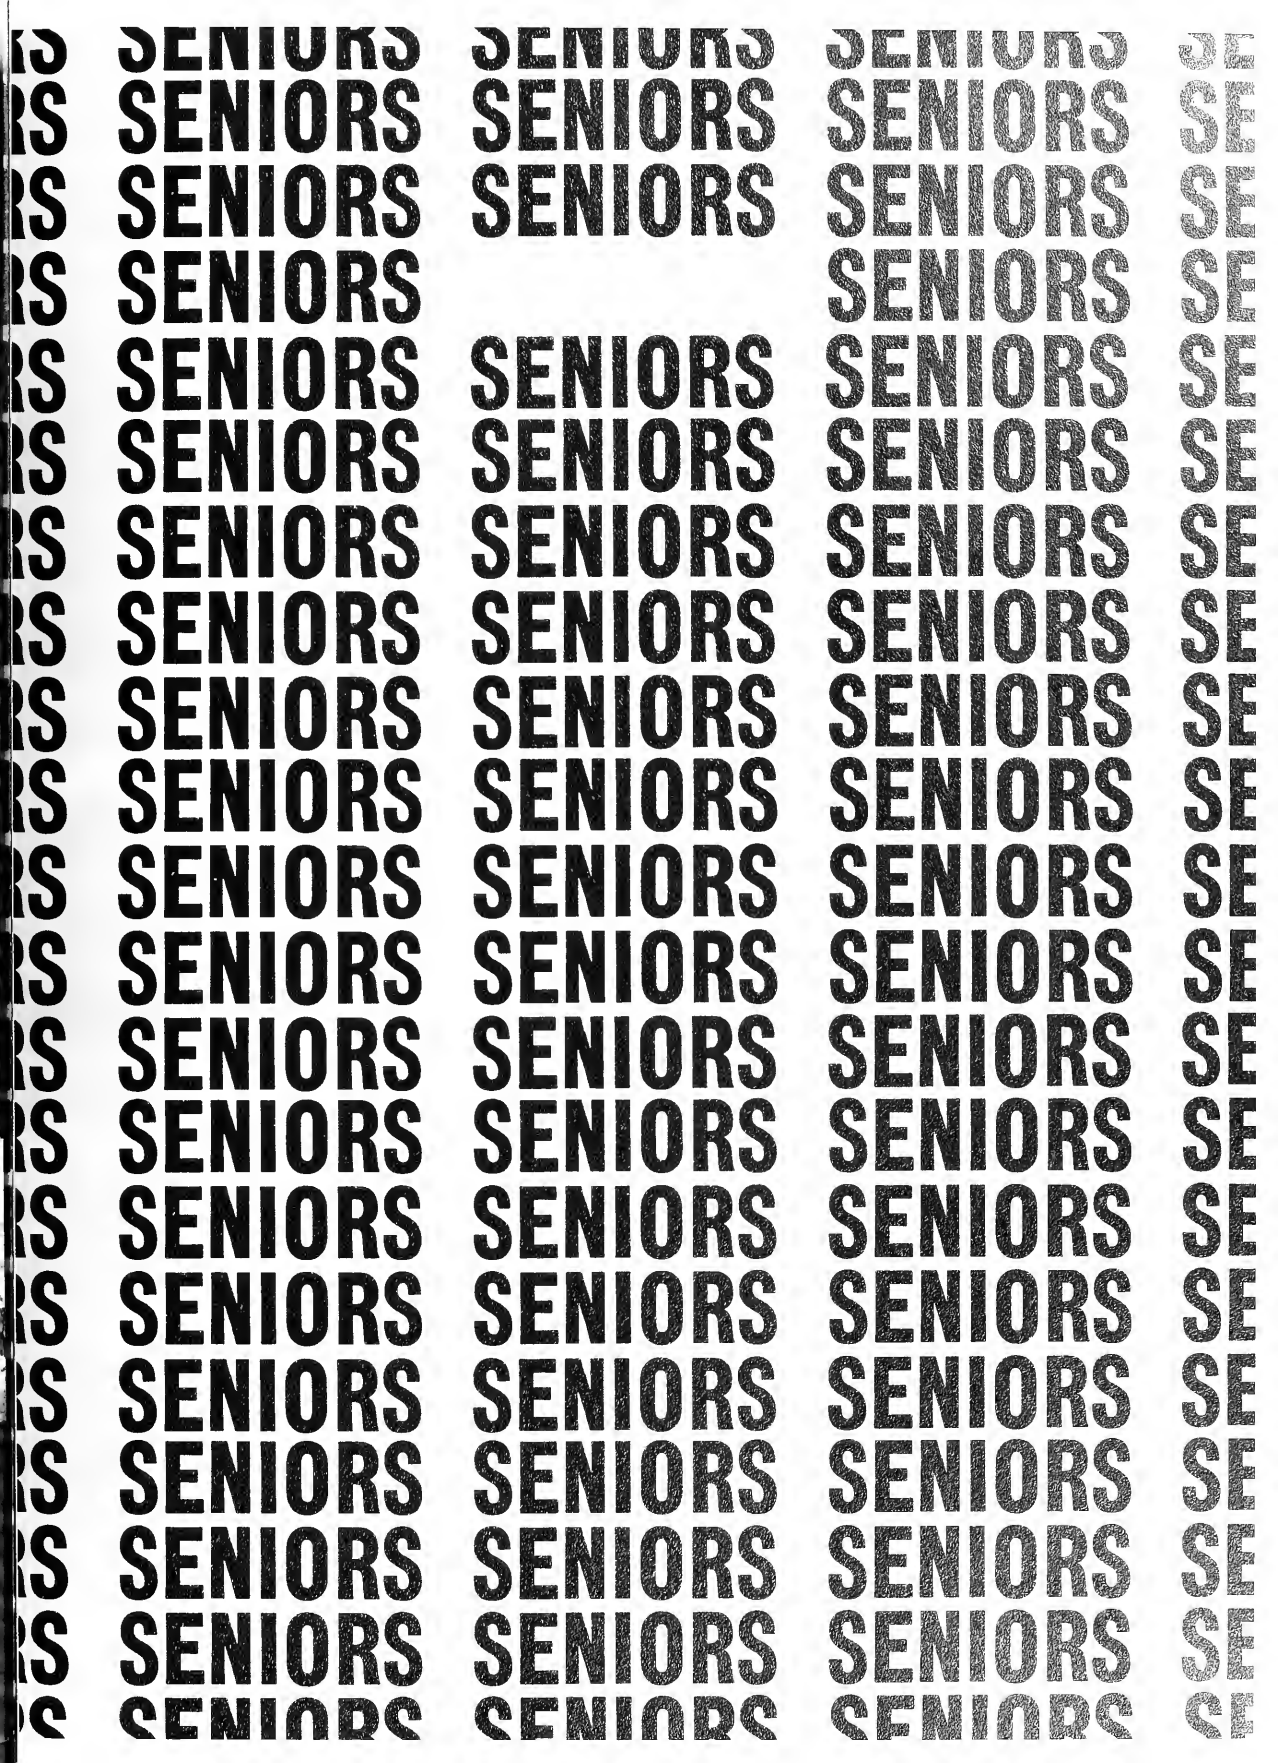

*He was a giver,
He was a molder,
He was a builder
With a strong shoulder.
Six feet and over,
Large boned and ruddy,
The eyes grey-hazel
But bright with study.
From buying empires
To planting 'taters,
From Declarations
To trick dumb-waiters.
I liked the people,
The sweat and crowd of them,
Trusted them always
And spoke aloud of them.
I liked all learning
And wished to share it
Abroad like pollen
For all who merit.*

EPILOGUE

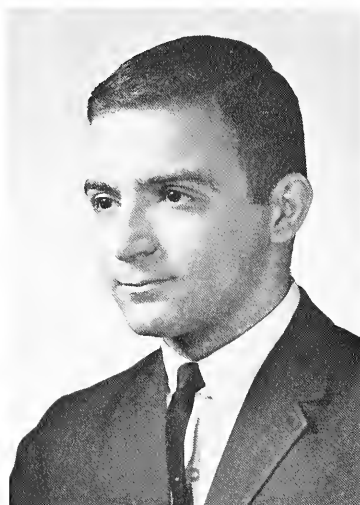

*I have felt
A presence that disturbs me with the joy
Of elevated thoughts; a sense sublime
Of something far more deeply interfused,
Whose dwelling is the light of setting suns,
And the round ocean and the living air,
And the blue, and in the mind of man.*

Acknowledgements

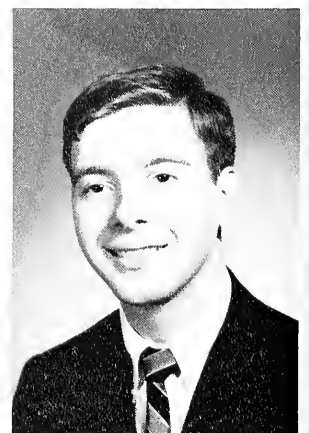

Recognition should be given to those who gave unstintingly of their time and energies for the benefit of our publication. Gratitude is extended to: Mr. James Pettegrove for his concern and cooperation; Mr. Ralph Smith for his abundant aid and sage advice; Mr. Shutz for his knowledge and labor; and Mr. Gary Leo for his patience and helpfulness.

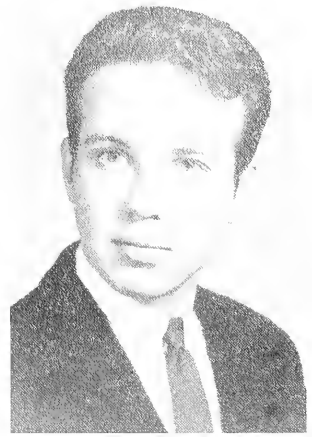

Sincere appreciation must also be expressed to: the administration and faculty for their cheerful cooperation; Mr. Morris McGee for his good grace in opening his files to us; Mr. L. Howard Fox for his patience; and the Boys in the Boiler Room for their assistance and good humor. Special thanks go to Mrs. Partridge for her generosity and secrecy.

For the endurance displayed under harassing circumstances as well as for devoting an exhorbitant amount of time and talent, I send heartfelt thanks to Richard Mizdal and Nancy Skirka; Anne Savino, Virginia Tackney, and Virginia Chapman.
